PERSPECTIVE

WHAT: "Perspective," an exhibition of paintings by Mumbai based eminent artist Pratima Sheth. Speaking about her works, Pratima Seth says, "Perspective' is not so much geometric recession as much as referring to the reality of the inner eye. It also helps to see my paintings at a distance before coming close to analyse my technique and brushwork and the drip of paint. My paintings are more contemporary in the sense that they are an evolution of the free hand style that I have always been working with colour being my important subject in my work of art. I have experimented with both water colour and oil painting. I still prefer oils as it gives a very important feeling and a great illusion of satisfaction. Earlier, there was a clear cut demarcation in my depiction of land, sea and city. Today, I look upon my perception with colours as a painterly expression, with deep emotional undertones."
